

Poll Quiz Survey and Assessment Services

Managed setup and reporting for your next project

Collect useful feedback, create an engaging learning quiz, or put assessment scores in context. CupTalks helps you turn your questions into an online tool, with the setup and reporting handled by our team.

You bring the purpose, audience, and content. We agree the scope, configure the tool, check its logic, and prepare the reports and exports your project needs.

Services and indicative prices

Service	Project price	Typical scope
Simple survey or quiz	US$400 to US$900	One online tool, configuration and logic checks, one aggregate report, and agreed CSV exports.
Configured assessment	US$1,200 to US$3,000	Scoring dimensions and feedback bands, branching where needed, an agreed comparison report, and CSV exports.

Prices are indicative, in US dollars, per project. A written quote confirms the scope, price, timeline, revision allowance, and any applicable taxes before work begins.

What we can build

- Polls for a focused question, a workshop pulse check, or a quick audience response.
- Quizzes for learning and engagement, with scoring and feedback. Ranking, puzzle, and timed memory formats are available where suitable.
- Surveys with conditional questions, sections, and answer choices, so participants follow a relevant path.
- Assessments with multiple scoring dimensions, reverse scoring, and score bands with tailored feedback.

Start with a small project

Ask about introductory pilot pricing for a clearly scoped first project. We will help identify a practical starting point within the service ranges above.

Tell us about your project

Share your audience, purpose, draft questions, preferred timeline, and budget. We will discuss a suitable scope and provide a project quote.

How your project works

1 Define the purpose

Tell us who will take part, what you want to learn, and how the results will be used. Share your draft questions or existing instrument.

2 Agree the project

We confirm the questions, scoring, reports, participant access method, timeline, and price. We also agree collection responsibilities and data arrangements.

3 Build and review

Our team configures the tool and checks the agreed branching and scoring. You review the content and participant experience before collection starts.

4 Review the results

Use your client workspace to see permitted reports and downloads. We prepare the agreed outputs and data handover.

Your client workspace

Your staff-created business workspace has one owner and access to the projects assigned to it. It provides a read-only view of the reports, exports, and files made available for your project.

- Aggregate charts and tables, with agreed filters and group comparisons where applicable.
- Permitted aggregate CSV downloads and supporting files.
- Project-specific access controls and an audit record of report views and exports.
- Small-group and small-cell suppression under the agreed reporting privacy rules.

What we agree before starting

Your quote defines question count and formats, scoring complexity, comparison groups, report outputs, revision rounds, collection period, and delivery dates. Respondent recruitment and scientific validation are outside these package prices.

We also agree consent and collection responsibilities, data handover formats, workspace access duration, retention, and deletion arrangements, including backup retention. Any additional work is priced and agreed before it begins.

Payment and assessment scope

Payment is handled manually outside CupTalks by invoice or transfer, under the terms in your quote. There is no payment facility in the client dashboard.

Assessment services configure the agreed instrument and scoring. They do not establish scientific validity or provide a clinical diagnosis. You must have permission to use any third-party questions or assessment content supplied for the project.
